To Bind:

1. Choose a DocuBind plastic spiral comb (up to 5/8"). Combs should be 1/8" larger than your document thickness. Plastic combs from other manufacturers can also be used with your DocuBind.
2. Flip down the binding door. Starting at the second binding finger from either end, position the plastic comb open side up (see figures 3 & 4), with the spine of the comb behind the binding fingers. (Placement of the comb on the second binding finger is especially important when using oversized covers.)
3. Allow the comb to fall all the way down between the binding fingers. Then push the comb to the right until the hooks of the binding fingers are inside the rings of the plastic comb (figure 5).
4. Open comb by turning binding knob clockwise (figure 6).

5. If you are using a cover, feed the front cover, face down, onto the comb, then the punched sheets, face down, then the back cover, face up. (figure 7).
